

Modern Employment Law

Topics

This seminar will give you useful updates and guidance in respect of the following:

- Paribas v. Mezzotero – a bar to negotiating termination?
Richard Viney looks at the without prejudice rule and the circumstances in which pre-termination negotiations will be considered by Employment Tribunals when resolving claims.
- “There has to be something wrong with it” (Sedley LJ in Dacas)
Joel Kendall looks at the problems that arise from “modern employment relationships”, including those of agency workers, casual workers and ‘workers’ within the meaning of the discrimination legislation and suggests the courses the courts may take in order to reach a reasonable conclusion.
- Harassment in the workplace; how do we draw the line?
Andrew Hogarth QC looks at the Protection from Harassment Act and the increase in the numbers of harassment claims in the workplace following the decision in Majrowski, the developing overlap between personal injury claims resulting from harassment and employment law claims, and considers why the different causes of action available may lead to different results.
