

Spencer Turner appointed as a Panel Member of the England Boxing National Disciplinary Panel

Chambers is pleased to announce Spencer Turner's appointment as a panel member of the England Boxing National Disciplinary Panel for a three year term.

England Boxing is the national governing body for the sport of boxing in England and the National Disciplinary Panel plays a crucial role in the governance of the sport at amateur and olympic levels. As a panel member Spencer will be eligible for independent selection to hear various disciplinary matters for the duration of his appointment.
