AREAS OF EXPERTISE

Personal Injury, Industrial Disease, Employment & Discrimination, Clinical Negligence, Fraud, Credit Hire, Public Authority Liability, International & Travel, Public Inquiries

Rachit specialises in personal injury, industrial disease, international and travel law and clinical negligence work. He has an interest in employment law claims, particularly in cases involving psychiatric harm.

His industrial disease practice focuses on mesothelioma claims and other asbestos-related diseases.

Rachit has experience in cases involving a public law aspect, recently being instructed in the Undercover Policing Inquiry, as well as an established inquest practice.

He acts for claimants and defendants/respondents.

Having studied Human Genetics before studying for the Bar, Rachit applies his knowledge of scientific and medical issues to the law.

Industrial Disease

Rachit's industrial disease practice focuses on mesothelioma and other asbestos-related disease. He is regularly instructed to advise or appear in court in claims involving low exposure, multiple defendants and issues of causation and quantum. He acts on a CFA basis and considers pro bono work where possible.

Rachit was junior to Harry Steinberg in Haxton v Phillips Electronics at first instance.

Rachit also accepts instructions in claims involving exposure at work to harmful substances and noise induced hearing loss.

Memberships

Rachit holds memberships to PIBA and ELBA.
