JUDICIAL APPOINTMENTS

Deputy District Judge (West Midlands): 2010

Richard is an experienced litigator who is regularly instructed on behalf of both Claimants and Defendants in high value personal injury litigation including disease, motor and EL claims. His numeracy and interest in scientific matters mean that he is adept at handling complex loss assessments and cases where a good understanding of technical issues is vital.

Richard's practice extends to insurance issues and he is regularly instructed by most major insurance companies to deal with claims involving coverage and policy arguments.

Richard regularly acts in asbestos disease claims particularly those involving mesothelioma and lung cancer. He has been instructed in claims arising from exposure in the construction, manufacturing, shipbuilding, shipping, sugar production and telecom industries as well as claims arising from environmental exposure.

Richard also has a keen interest in procedural matters and is currently a barrister member of the CPRC. He is frequently instructed to act in relation to specific procedural and costs issues.

Personal Injury

Richard is regularly instructed in high value and catastrophic quantum claims as well as liability cases of all types.

Richard has recently been instructed in respect of liability issues in both the Taunton fireworks and Sheppey crossing road accidents, two of the largest road accidents in England and Wales, and can quickly get to grips with factual and expert issues in all types of case.

He is regularly instructed in £m+ claims where other parties have instructed silks.

Insurance

Richard has particular expertise dealing with insurance issues in personal injury claims.

He is regularly instructed by motor insurers in relation to policy coverage and avoidance matters and frequently acts in claims for declarations under section 152 of the RTA 1988.

Richard has advised on most aspects of the uninsured drivers agreement and untraced drivers agreement and is instructed by MIB in relation to such matters as well as other motor insurers.

Richard also advises on issues arising from EL insurance cover and has advised major companies and insurers in respect of issues that arise from TUPE, captive insurers, 'excess' provisions, project and general policies, and retrospective cover terms.

Industrial Disease

Richard regularly acts in asbestos cases, principally mesothelioma and lung cancer claims. He acts on behalf of Claimants and Defendants and has wide experience of exposure in different industries.

He frequently acts in cases where employment transfer issues arise and is familiar with insurance arguments that arise in asbestos claims.

Richard also deals with other industrial disease cases and has been instructed in NIHL, HAVS, dermatitis, silicosis and welder's lung cases.

Professional Negligence

Richard has significant experience in professional negligence claims (both solicitor and barrister) arising from underlying personal injury accidents. He has dealt with claims arising from limitation, striking out, and a failure to properly assess the Claimant's injuries.

Inquests

Richard has regularly been instructed to represent clients and insurers interests in inquests. He recently appeared on behalf of a security company and head door steward at an inquest following 2 deaths in a crushing incident at the Lava nightclub, Northampton.

Costs

As a Deputy District Judge and member of the CPRC Richard has extensive experience of dealing with costs issues and acts in respect of such matters in personal injury cases dealing with issues arising from part 36, fixed costs and assessments.

He has extensive experience of costs budgeting and can advise on approaches to costs budgeting to best serve the client's interests.

Property

Richard has dealt with property damage claims in various contexts including:

- Electrical damage due to generator supply issues at Barnstaple Civic Centre;
- Oil leak at a water treatment facility due to generator maintenance;
- Alleged damage to cables due to piling works;
- Insurance policy dispute in respect of various claims for damage at T5 Heathrow.

International & Travel

Richard is familiar with international issues arising in his principal areas of practice and has experience of acting in claims in the Admiralty division.

Mediation

Richard is willing to accept appointment as an arbitrator in personal injury related claims where the parties wish to pursue a more efficient alternative to the court system.
